

The Surgins Voice

Journal of Surgical instruments written by Surgeons Worldwide

Guidelines for Contributors

About the Journal

"The Surgins Voice" is 'Surgins' unique flagship publication which is designed to provide a platform whereby 'Surgeons' world-wide can contribute to, explore, debate and analyse 'Surgical Instruments' related issues and topics that can be applied to manufacturing, innovation and clinical practice

The primary object of the journal is to focus on the surgeon's viewpoint about surgical instruments and making them visible not only to fellow surgeons internationally but also to surgical instrument industry thereby encouraging debate.

The Reviewing Process

Each paper is reviewed by the editor and, if it is judged suitable for this publication, it is then sent to two referees for double blind peer review.

Based on their recommendations, the editor then decides whether the paper should be accepted as it is, revised or rejected.

Copyright

Articles submitted to the journal should be original contributions and should not be under consideration for any other publication at the same time.

Authors submitting articles for publication warrant that the work is not an infringement of any existing copyright and will indemnify the publisher against any breach of such warranty.

For ease of dissemination papers and contributions become the legal copyright of the publisher unless otherwise agreed.

Manuscripts

All papers should be typed using double line spacing with wide margins on both sides of the page and leaving a space between paragraphs.

Ideally the paper should be submitted on CD or by email. It should be saved in Microsoft Word. Pages should be numbered.

For purposes of confidentiality, author identifications should appear only on the front sheet.

Research papers:

Research papers must include:

- A clear statement of the research question(s) or aims of the study;
- An indication of the background or rationale for the study;
- A summarised literature review – if appropriate for the research design used;
- Ethical issues and approval; details of methods and tools used including any pilot studies;

Findings and Analysis, including the application of criteria of validity and reliability and the avoidance of bias; outcome measures; study limitations; discussion and recommendations or conclusions.

Critical reviews:

Critical reviews of literature relevant to Surgical Instruments are welcomed.

These should be structured under appropriate headings to guide the reader through the aims, literature search strategies and conclusions of the review, pointing out its comprehensiveness and limitations.

Research News:

Research news is intended for short reports of current research.

Reports should be no more than 500 words and may include three references and one figure.

Reports should state the aims and objectives of the research, the methods and the potential implications of the findings.

Other newsworthy items and book reviews may be submitted for consideration.

Letters to the Editor:

Letters are welcome on any surgical instrument related subject.

Format for research papers and reviewsFront sheet:

This should carry the title of the article; a shortened title; authors' first names, any other initials and surnames in the order in which they are to appear in the publication; professional and academic qualifications; positions and places of work relevant to the article; a contact author, with address to which all correspondence should be sent, telephone number and email addresses.

Details of sources of research funding should be included where relevant.

Abstract:

All manuscripts should begin with an abstract of 300 to 500 words, which should give a brief outline of the content of the article, including its main findings and recommendations.

Keywords:

All articles should give up to six keywords which will be used for indexing purposes.

Figures and illustrations:

These should be supplied on separate sheets with clear instructions indicating their placement in the text.

Illustrations should be submitted in the form of completed artwork suitable for reproduction, not photocopies.

If illustrations are in digital format please supply in high resolution .jpg format. Black and white photographic prints are acceptable.

Colour photographs can only be accepted if the authors bears the cost of reproduction.

Captions should be supplied for all illustrations, which must be referred to in the text.

Each figure should have a label on the reverse indicating the number of the figure and the author's name.

Figures should be numbered consecutively in order of their first citation in the text.

Tables:

Each table must have a heading and a clear descriptive legend beneath.

Any nonstandard abbreviations must be defined in the legend. All units of measurement must be included.

Data for tables should be provided in as simple a format as possible; they should be double spaced and produced on separate sheets.

Tables must be numbered consecutively in order of citation in the text. Do not use specialised software packages to produce tables.

Pages should be numbered.

Permission to reproduce borrowed material

Acknowledgement must be given where appropriate:

Reproduced by kind permission of... (Publishers) from ... (Reference).

Written permission to reproduce material must be obtained by the author from the original publishers and author, and must be submitted with the manuscript.

Any fees payable are the responsibility of the author.

Footnotes and appendices:

Footnotes should not be used.

Acknowledgements for research or other funding or support should be included at the end of the paper. No personal acknowledgements will be accepted.

ReferencesReferences in the text:

The accuracy of the references provided is the author's responsibility.

Citations must be only from the primary source. Bibliographic lists are not required. References in the text should be listed in chronological order and in the following format: (Howley 1994, Harris 1995, Bennet & Edwards 1996).

Where there are three or more authors the reference should be cited as (Faulkner et al 1998). Page numbers should be given for direct quotations and annotations of text over five words.

Reference list:

The reference list should be submitted in the format of the following examples:

Articles:

Jasty M, Maloney WJ, Bragdon CR 1991 The initiation of failure in cemented femoral components of hip arthroplasties Journal of Bone and Joint Surgery 73(4) 551–558

Books:

Abel-Smith 1960 A History of the Nursing Profession London, Heinemann

Chapters in a book:

Fry ST 1985 Power, Politics and Change. In: Mason DJ and Talbot SW (Eds) Political Action Handbook for Nurses Menlo Park California, Addison-Wesley

Internet source:

Brief Guide: Citing References [Online] Available from:
www.bournemouth.ac.uk/library/citing_refs_main.html [Accessed 5 August 2008]

The reference list is to be in alphabetical order. Differentiate between works published in the same year by the same author(s) by labelling them a, b, c in the order in which they appear in the text. Do not use 'et al' in the reference list.

Proofs:

Page proofs will be sent to the corresponding author for checking.

Authors must return corrected proofs within 24 hours of receipt. Failure to do so may mean that changes cannot be incorporated. No major changes will be accepted at the proof stage.

Checklist

Before sending your manuscript, please ensure that you include the following:

- Your full details: name, qualifications, job title and place of work, telephone number and email address.
- Figures of reproducible quality, labelled with author details on the back.
- Up to six keywords
- A complete reference list in the correct style.
- Written permission from original publishers and authors for reproduction of any borrowed material.

Submissions should be sent to:

Editor “The Surgins Voice”

Surgins Surgical Limited

Concorde House, Trinity Park Solihull

Birmingham B37 7UQ

England UK

Email: publication@surgins.co.uk